Lincoln Lager Newsletter February 2005

The last meeting was held at the house of Doug Finke. There were 9 members in attendance with one guest to the club as well. I feel very sorry for those of you who were unable to attend because the food that Doug Finke prepared was awesome!! And there were some great homebrews to sample, as well as a special bottle of New Belgium sour ale which can only be bought at the brewery in Colorado. Doug picked up this beer during his trip to GABF.

Editor's Notes: (Chris Vejnovich)

I hope that all of you are doing well this year so far. The Lincoln Lagers have some fun events coming up with in the next few weeks. This last weekend the Maibock Beer Quest was held. Jon Zuolanek won the event with Dave Meister and Dave Oenbring coming 2nd and 3rd.

The annual bus trip will take place February 19th, 2005. There are still some seats available, so contact Dave Oenbring at 525-0204 immediately if you are interested in going. The bus will leave the Westfield Shopping Center parking lot at 8.00am on Feb 19th, 2005. Don't be late.

Shawn Suhr will be holding the Lagers Preliminary competition at his residence. This competition is a qualifier for our beers to be advanced on to the Interclub Comp between our club and the Omahops. Shawn requests help from all members in helping him to plan and run this competition. I am volunteering my services, but the club will need another 10 members or so to come out and help with manpower, planning and lastly, beer judging. Please contact the club email if you are able to help with this qualifier. It will be held April 17th, 2005.

The styles selected for the Inter-Club Competition follow BJCP guidelines and are listed below:

Belgian Strong Ale BJCP 18

Bock BJCP 5

Stout BJCP 13

Scottish and Scotch Ales 9

Best Damn Beer

The Next two meetings will be held at BBQ4U. This is a local Barbeque Shop that is allowing us to hold a meeting in their back room for free. Dave Hoage has setup this meeting place for us. The Date and time of the next meeting is listed in the banners above. Some concern has been expressed that some members may not know how to find this establishment. So in an effort to make finding the meeting place as painless as possible I am suggesting an opportunity of help for all members who are unsure of where BBQ4U is located. You can meet me(Chris Vejnovich) in the 48th and O Street Super Saver parking lot from 6.30-7.00 PM on the night of meeting(March 3rd, 2005) and then follow me to BBQ4U. If you can't find 48th and O Street or the Super Saver located on that corner, then you have more problems than I can help you with. Please go lens crafters for a new eye glass prescription, or go straight to detox because you have drank far too much homebrew.

The Lagers have a new website. It is listed under the address www.lincolnlagers.com The website has been constructed by Dave Meister, and is hosted by Brian Allison. Please visit the website and give Dave and Brian both a pat on the back and huge thankyou for all of their hard work on this great asset for our club. Better yet, bring these two gentlemen some special homebrews for them to enjoy.
